What Are Cookies

Cookies are small text files placed on your computer, mobile device, or other internet-enabled device when you visit a website. They enable the website to recognise your device, remember preferences, and collect information about how visitors interact with the site. Cookies help websites operate efficiently and provide useful insights that support ongoing improvement and performance monitoring.

Types of Cookies We Use

- 1 Necessary Cookies – Essential for core functionality such as security, navigation, and access to protected areas of the website.
- 2 Analytics Cookies – Help us understand how visitors use the website so we can improve usability, performance, and content.
- 3 Preference Cookies – Allow the website to remember settings such as language, region, or other customisations.
- 4 Statistics Cookies – Collect anonymous data about visitor behaviour, including pages viewed and time spent on the website.
- 5 Marketing Cookies – Used to track visitors across websites in order to display relevant and engaging content where applicable.
